There was some question as to whether the Sherman act will apply to the New England and it is possible that this feature will be eliminated from the bill. If it is retained and the government should carry the point, the New Haven would be stripped to its Shore Line and a few feeders projecting north into the New England states which it traverses.

Loath to Bring Case Into Court. Mr. McReynolds is understood to be oath to take the case into court, but to feel that there is no other solution of the problem of untangling the New Haven. His ears are not closed to further negotiations with railroad officials but is was the opinion at the department yesterday that the New Haven has rested its case. Official notice of the action of the directors in New York variance to Boston, July 17—A restitution suit whereby minority stockholders seek to compel former and present directors to restore to the treasure of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company approximately $102,000,000 alleged to have been allegally used in building up the system, was begun in the supreme court today. Judge Braley, before whom the action was brought, issued an order of notice, returnable next Friday, to show cause why a receiver, special master in New York yesterday refusing to accept conditions laid down in Massa-chusetts for the sale of its Boston and Maine stock came during the day. There was no intimation of any plan for complying with the government's emand that the Boston and Maine tock be sold and it was the general seeling that only the conference between the president and the attorney general remains before the filing of the bill.

New Haven Not to Fight Suit. It became known tonight that the It became known tonight that the New Haven is not expected to offer any great resistance to the suit. It might not be fought at all and the New Haven might even go so far as to appear in court, confess judgment and put it up to the court to determine whether a dissolution should be ordered. This would contribute to a speedy determination of the case in the district court. So far as the department is concerned, it is understood that is concerned, it is understood that when suit is begun it will be pressed to a conclusion as rapidly as possible.

CARBAJAL TO STEP OUT

United States Government Working for Restoration of Normal Condi

Washington, July 17.—Every in-fluence and diplomatic agency at the disposal of the United States government was working today for imme diate peace in Mexico.

The Washington administration is convinced that with the elimination of Huerta, for which it has been steadily pressing for more than a year the visious factions in Mexico will be quickly drawn together. To aid in this and assure restoration of normal con-ditions without further bloodshed, officials here are exerting themselves to smooth the way for a new and stable administration in Mexico which shall be recognized by the powers of Arranging for Peaceful Transfer. Not only is the American govern-ment at this moment counselling Gen-eral Carrange, the constitutionalist chief, to arrange with Francisco Car-hajal, Huerta's successor, for the peaceful transfer of the government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists without further flighting but it he without further fighting, but, it became known tonight, the administration is directly in communication with Emiliano Zapata, leader of the revolution in southern Mexico.

Zapata's Intentions Not Known Zapata, according to reliable re-ports to the state department, has 24,000 men and though most of them are poorly equipped they would con-stitute a serious menace to a new government at Mexico City of they re mained in revolution. Zapata, who de mands agrarian reforms immediately made common cause with the consti-tutionalists and obtained supplies from them with which to fight the Huerta government. It is not known yet, how-ever, whether he will lay down his arms in favor of Carranza.

Using Influence with Zapata Using Influence with Zapata.

The United States is using its influence, through friends of Zapata, to bring him into harmony with the peace programme, and an emissary from General Carranza is now on his way to confer with Zapata. Washington officials are keenly interested in the success of this conference.

These activities on the part of the American government result from a desire that when the constitutionalists desire that when the constitutionalists are installed in Mexico City and com-ply with the conditions pre-requisite to formal recognition, there shall be an end to revolution in Mexico with its ever-threatening international as

The Washington government is in touch with Mr. Carbajal through his personal representative here, Joseph Castellot, who declared today the relations between the two governments. lations between the two govrnments were very cordial.

Carbajal Wants to Transfer Authority to Carranza.

Mr. Castellot is in constant com-munication with Mr. Carbajal. One of the messages from the new provi-sional president said he had no in-tention of filling any of the cabinet portfolios, except the iministry of war to direct the army. The United States has pointed out to General Carranza through Mr. Silliman that the United States stands ready to recognize Carranza if his forces enter Mexico City peacefully, after giving guarantees to the Carbajal government as well as pledges for the holding of an election, and the carrying out of internal reforms. Washington Officials Encouraged.

Generally, Washington officials are highly optimistic over the ravorable turn of events. Already they are predicting complete peace in Maxico in another fortnight. They were encouraged, for instance by a telegram from General Obregon, commander of one of the three big divisions of the constitutionalist army, saying Americans and other foreigners now could return to Guadalajara and the state of Jalisco, with assurance of safety if Jalisco, with assurance of safety if they wished,

General Obregon gave these assur-ances to American Consus Hostetter. Early return of Americans who left Mexico during the stormy days of the revolution is expected, though it is unlikely that the state department will officially indvise a return until the transfer of government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists is actually accomplished.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN BULLETIN

There is no question but what it pays to advertise in The Norwich Bulletin but there is something else which must go with it; you must give them the goods" This in other words means that it is the honest advertising which pays, and there can be no doubt about. Many other merchants and in fact most of those who have had experience in the use of printer's ink will say the same thing,

Honesty is a great factor in the success of any enterprise of an established character. Business cannot be conducted long with increasing success where dishonest methods and fake propositions are placed before the people. Nothing operates so disastrously to business as the pursuit of crocked methods, and the maintenance of the same under the belief that the people can be fooled and not know the difference. Advertising is in action for more than a day and it should be made to build for the future.

Business and advertising go hand in hand and what is es od business policy is likewise as important in the advertising.
